Florax is a clinically proven probiotic supplement formulated with the yeast S. cerevisiae that comes in a unique liquid form that can be taken once a week or as needed to help maintain beneficial intestinal flora and support the immune system* - all with just one portable liquid probiotic per week or as needed.

Formulated by Hebron, a leading pharmaceutical company in Brazil, we were quick to change the probiotics game. With Florax, our innovative, portable liquid probiotic, we became a best-selling product in Brazil for overall long term gut maintenance and onset diarrhea*. Now, we're bringing our top-performing product to the U.S, shaking up the category with an on-the-go weekly probiotic that is designed to conveniently fit your active lifestyle. No matter where you are or how you live, Florax is here to help you free up your life with fast, flexible gut support.

At Florax, we believe in fast, flexible gut support. That's why we designed our portable liquid probiotic, which is clinically proven to promote overall gut maintenance and help support the immune system in adults and children – all in just one weekly serving or as needed. Our formula uses the highly-effective yeast S. cerevisiae, and is gluten, soy, preservative, and lactose-free. It comes in an innovative liquid form that can be taken just once a week or as needed. Each serving provides 500 million active cultures, which are always live, never dead or freeze-dried. At just 5mL, our small liquid vials are easy to slip into your bag or pocket, fitting into your diet, schedule, and lifestyle seamlessly.

Florax is your on-the-go gut support, helping you keep your gut – and the guts of those you love – happy and healthy.
